

ing award to e or book writ-
t physics and/
en established
itute of Phys-
be presented in January
y a prize of
e first award
English and America be-86 and Octo-
cations, con-
on Division,
New York,
404.
nesota has
ion of a new
the Medical disciplinary School. The
l through a
M Founda-
wo Univer-
chief execu-
y. The 3M
ces Chair

Feb 22-26. Radiation Research Society-35th Annual Meeting. Atlanta. Contact: RRS, 925 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, PA 19107. (215) 574-3153.

¿QUIEN SABE?

German naturalist Alexander von Humboldt is often credited with the following aphorism: "There are three stages in the popular attitude toward a great discovery: first, men doubt its existence, next they deny its importance, and finally they give the credit to someone else." Can any reader cite an explicit original source, whether by Humboldt or another?—J.L., New York

Please send responses to ¿Quien Sabe?, THE SCIENTIST, Suite 605, 1101 15th St., NW, Washington, DC 20005.

THE SCIENTIST welcomes your contributions to ¿Quien Sabe? If an unanswered question has been ranking your mind, perhaps our readers can help. Send your questions to ¿Quien Sabe? at the above address.

1/26/87 I(s)